Published July 2021 - Dec 2021

The official seal of The Art of Education University (AOEU) showcases the institution's core values and principles. The seal represents values like lifelong learning, personal growth, and AOEU's unique hyper-vertical learning model.

---

Sun and Moon:

The sun and moon represent an art teacher's full life of learning. AOEU serves its students from the beginning of their careers (sunrise) until retirement (nightfall).

Tree of Personal Growth:

The tree represents an art teacher's personal growth and expanding knowledge. The tree is a maple, which is a subtle nod to Osage, Iowa, the small, unassuming town that AOEU calls home.

Ladder of Lifelong Learning:

Each rung on the ladder represents a unique approach to learning. While most institutions focus on only a few rungs, AOEU believes each rung (degrees, courses, media, events, software, etc.) plays an essential role in personal growth.

Owl of Athena:

The Owl of Athena has its origins in art and art history. Buried amongst the rubble of the Athenian Parthenon, the owl is a symbol of Athena, the goddess of knowledge and wisdom. Inscribed beside the owl were the letters "AOE" (alpha, theta, epsilon), meaning "Of the Athenians" in ancient Greek.

Academic Integrity Policy

The Art of Education University believes academic integrity is essential to maintain the validity of all grades earned and to protect the integrity of the university, students, and graduates. Therefore, AOEU adheres to the highest standards when it comes to student scholarly work.

All work submitted and/or presented by students must be original and properly cite all outside inspiration. Original cited work includes, but is not limited to, individual and group assignments in written, oral, and electronic forms and any artistic creations.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a major form of dishonesty. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:

- Purchasing and/or deliberately taking someone else's work (written, artistic, or otherwise) and submitting it as one's own.
- Incorrectly citing resources or creating fictitious resources.
- Using a direct quote without including quotation marks and/or appropriate citation.
- Submitting direct quotes as paraphrased text.
- Paraphrasing text without using the appropriate citation.
- Taking an assignment (or substantially similar assignment) completed for one course/program and submitting it for another AOEU course/program without written approval from the instructor. This includes work from withdrawn and incomplete courses.

Violations, Academic Probation, and Dismissal

AOEU follows the Academic Integrity Policy to determine the probation and dismissal of students.

Any work in violation of the Academic Integrity Policy will result in grade deductions and/or dismissal. Violations are cumulative for the duration of the student's tenure at the university.

- On the student's first offense, the instructor has the option to allow resubmission of the assignment for half credit.
- The second violation will result in zero credit (grade entered as zero) for the assignment without the option of resubmission.
- Any additional violations will lead to a failing grade, dismissal from the course(s) enrolled, and a refund according to the Transfer, Withdrawal, and Tuition Reimbursement Policy.

- Students who already have an academic integrity violation on record from a previous course and incur additional course infraction(s) are subject to penalties, including failure of the assignment, failure of the course, and/or university dismissal. The Chief Academic Officer will review all such cases and make a final decision within 10 calendar days. Students in this situation will have the right to submit further documentation or explanation on their behalf.

Students should consult their instructor with questions regarding the policy.

The Art of Education University reserves the right to terminate enrollment at any time for infractions detailed in the Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy. Terminated students will be refunded per the Tuition Reimbursement Policy and earn a final grade per the Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy.

Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy

The Art of Education University is committed to academic success and a positive experience for all students and reserves the right to dismiss students for the specific infractions detailed below.

Conduct Violations and Dismissal

AOEU follows the Academic Integrity Policy and the Student Code of Conduct Policy to determine the dismissal of students. Students who are dismissed will be removed from the course and program. All current and future course registrations will be issued a refund according to the Transfer, Withdrawal, and Tuition Reimbursement Policy. Current courses will show an earned grade of W if the student is removed after the seventh day of the course. Students dismissed from AOEU are ineligible for future enrollment.

It is the student's responsibility to understand and uphold AOEU policies.

Students in violation of the Code of Conduct are immediately suspended from current coursework until the investigation is complete. If, after providing documentation, the student is not found in violation of the code of conduct, they will be granted a course extension equal to the time of the original suspension.

If a student is found in violation of the Academic Integrity Policy or the Student Code of Conduct Policy, they will receive written communication informing them of their violation and that they are being dismissed from the program.

After receiving the written notification, students have five calendar days to respond and provide evidence that demonstrates they are not in violation of the policy and therefore should not be dismissed.

The CAO will review all provided evidence and documentation and make a final decision. The student will be notified of that final decision in writing within 10 days.

If the student does not agree with the final decision, they may choose to submit a grievance.

Fees Required: Yes

Origination Fee: 5% of financed amount

Late Charge: $15 or 5% of the past due payment, whichever is less

It is the student's responsibility to seek available assistance and to make their individual learning needs known to the instructor or the Dean of Student Services at the time of enrollment or as the need arises. Students with disabilities must demonstrate that they have acquired the same amount of content knowledge as other students enrolled in the course for which they are requesting accommodations and are obligated to use the accommodations responsibly. ## Confidentiality and Privacy Policies

Student Confidentiality

The Art of Education University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974. FERPA was designed to protect the privacy of educational records, establish the rights of students to inspect and review their educational records, and provide guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading information through informal and formal hearings.

Identity Verification

Students must verify their identity to speak with any employee at The Art of Education University about course records, billing information, or any other personal information. The student must accurately provide two pieces of information to confirm their identity for the employee to release personal information.

If the student cannot verify their identity by providing the correct information that AOEU has on file, the employee will not release the information.

Name Changes

To protect the integrity of the academic student record, students at The Art of Education University can not independently make name changes on their account.

Students must submit a Name Change Request form to change their name for any reason. Requests for a change of name are processed by the registrar's office. Regardless of the reason for the request, you must attach supporting documentation to change your name. Appropriate documentation can be a driver's license, government-issued ID, marriage certificate, divorce decree, or social security card.

FERPA Notification

AOEU maintains records and documentation of student academic progress and interactions with university staff.

The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords eligible students certain rights concerning their education records. These rights include:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days after AOEU receives a request for access. Students seeking additional information should submit a written request to the Office of the Registrar at registrar@theartofeducation.edu identifying the specific record(s) the student wishes to inspect.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records the student believes to be inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise a violation of the student's privacy rights under FERPA. Students requesting an educational record amendment need to contact the Office of the Registrar, clearly identifying the part of the record the student wants to have changed and specifying why it should be changed. If The Art of Education University decides not to amend the record as requested, AOEU will notify the student in writing of the decision and the student's right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
3. The right to provide written consent before AOEU discloses personally identifiable information (PII) from the student's education records, except to the extent FERPA authorizes disclosures without consent. The Art of Education University discloses education records without a student's prior written consent under the FERPA exception for disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A university official is typically a person employed by AOEU in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support position (including law enforcement personnel); a person serving on the board of trustees; a student serving as an official volunteer; or a contractor outside of AOEU who performs an institutional service for which the school would otherwise use its own employees and is under the direct control of the institution with respect to the use and maintenance of PII from education records, such as an attorney, auditor, collection agent, or a student volunteering to assist another university official in performing their tasks. A university official typically has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill their professional responsibilities for AOEUE.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by AOEUE to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW

Students may inspect and review their own records pertaining to admissions and academic standing.

The Art of Education University depends on the accuracy of the records submitted by its students. False information on an application or an act to intentionally mislead or misinform a faculty member or administrator will be grounds for disciplinary action, including dismissal.

Students seeking access or amendment to educational records should contact the Registrar at registrar@theartofeducation.edu or 515.236.5094.

Copyright

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Satisfactory academic progress (SAP) consists of both a GPA component (qualitative) and a course progress component (quantitative) and is checked at the end of every term. To maintain good standing, students must earn a minimum GPA of 3.0 or final course grade of B. Students who do not earn a B or above are subject to the Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy. A course grade of W on an official transcript counts against a student's satisfactory academic progress.

Credit hour completion is the quantitative measure of SAP whereby a student must complete their program within 150% of the published credits of the program. For example, the master's degree program is 36 credits, which requires students to satisfy all requirements of the program without having to attempt more than 54 credits. In order to ensure that students are meeting satisfactory academic progress during their program, the following SAP thresholds apply. Students who are not meeting this SAP standard are subject to the Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy.

Graduate Degree SAP Standards

MEASUREMENT LEVEL	MINIMUM CUMULATIVE GRADE POINT AVERAGE	MINIMUM COURSE COMPLETION RATE	MAXIMUM TIME TO COMPLETION
0–12 Credit Hours Attempted	$\geq 3.0$	50%	150% of the program's published length
13–24 Credit Hours Attempted	$\geq 3.0$	60%
25+ Credit Hours Attempted	$\geq 3.0$	66.67%

Course Workload

Coursework at The Art of Education University requires graduate-level reading, writing, and assignment submissions. When registering for courses, students should take these guidelines into consideration to ensure that they can uphold the requirements of the course and institutional policies.

- Courses are weighted using semester credit hours.
- One to four semester credit hours is considered a regular course load.
- Course workload calculations are determined using the Carnegie unit. The expected student workload is 45 hours per semester credit.
- A student enrolled in six or more semester credit hours at The Art of Education University in a 16-week timeframe is considered full-time.
- Degree-seeking students enrolled in more than four semester credit hours in one term are advised to design a plan with their academic advisor to ensure academic success.

Academic Probation Policy

Master's degree students must earn a B (80%) or higher, or a minimum of a 3.0 GPA, upon completion of each course to earn graduate credit toward program completion. Students placed on academic probation for failing to meet SAP standards are given a two-term probation period to remedy their progress and return to good standing. If they are still not in good standing at the end of the warning term, they are placed on academic probation and given a final term to remedy their standing. Students should meet with their academic advisors for guidance. Students who are unable to remedy their standing within the term may be withdrawn from the program.

Inactive Program Student

Students who do not start a course term for one year will be marked inactive. The student may continue the degree program at any point within the five year maximum by enrolling in a course. Inactive students can reestablish active status after the successful completion of a course term.

Capstone Readiness Exam

Once started, the exam must be completed within seven calendar days. Successful completion of this proctored exam is required to enroll in the 600-level core courses.

Students who do not pass the exam must complete another Capstone Readiness Checkpoint and retake the exam. All fees apply.

Student Journey

Master of Arts in Art Education

The Master's program at The Art of Education University will take you on an exciting journey specifically designed for art educators. Meet your professional goals while working at a pace that fits your lifestyle!

Grading Policy

Grading Scale and Grade Point Average (GPA)

The Art of Education University uses a grading scale to compute grade point averages and assign grades. Transfer credits are not included in the GPA. Master's degree students can view their GPA in their AOEU account on the Manage My Degree page.

LETTER GRADE	PERCENTAGE	GPA
A	90-100%	4.0
B	80-89%	3.0
C	70-79%	2.0
D	60-69%	1.0

Grading Requirements

Students must earn a final grade of B (80%) or higher, or a minimum of a 3.0 GPA, to earn graduate credit for coursework to count toward program completion.

Evaluation Method

Instructors use course rubrics and assignment guidelines to evaluate discussion board posts and assignments. Students are encouraged to work on assignments in their numerical order.

Attendance

Most courses are asynchronous with weekly due dates but no required login times. Capstone Research requirements include several synchronous activities to plan and present the final capstone project. All other courses are asynchronous.

Late Work

Assignment deadlines are posted in the course calendar in the LMS. Unexcused late work will be noted by the instructor and result in a point deduction according to the grading rubric. It is the student's responsibility to check the grade book frequently. Any questions or concerns should be brought to the attention of the course instructor. Students should contact their AOEU instructor immediately to discuss extension options should an unforeseeable circumstance prevent them from completing an assignment by the due date. Issues with technology are not grounds for late work extensions.

Assignment Extensions

AOEU instructors will work with students to set reasonable extensions (an agreed upon time frame by both the instructor and student) for assignments when unforeseen situations arise. To qualify for an extension, students must reach out to their instructor at least 24 hours before a deadline to communicate their inability to complete the assignment on time. Point deductions will not occur for prearranged and instructor-approved extensions. Point deductions will occur if the instructor is notified within 24 hours or after the assignment due date.

Religious Observances

AOEU will reasonably accommodate the religious observances of individual students in regards to due dates and course requirements. Religious observance includes all aspects of religious observance and practice as well as belief. To request accommodation, students shall provide instructors with at least one week notice of the date or dates they will observe a religious holiday. Students may work ahead of the deadline or request an assignment extension not to exceed one week. Religious observance does not relieve students from responsibility for any part of the course work required during the period of absence.

Course Incompletes

All work must be completed by the course end date, regardless of extensions given within the course for individual assignments. If special circumstances arise regarding the end date of a course, students should reach out to their instructor. In extenuating circumstances, an incomplete of no more than seven days may be granted beyond the end date of a course. Course incompletes may be granted by the faculty of record and must be requested prior to the course end date. Incompletes are only granted for extenuating, unpredictable, life-altering circumstances. They are not granted to provide a student more time to complete a course.

Course Repeat Policy

Students may repeat a course to earn a better grade. All course attempts will be included on the student record. Only the most recent grade will factor into the student's GPA. Students' satisfactory academic progress is impacted when they earn a C (79%) or less in a given course or receive a final grade of W (withdrawal.) In order to repeat a course, all applicable fees and tuition must be paid. Coursework is presumed to be original work that has not previously been submitted in another course without prior written approval from the instructor. This includes previously or concurrently submitted coursework and coursework from withdrawn courses, per the Academic Integrity policy.

Grade Processing and Timeline

Final grades are posted on the student's records page 10 calendar days after the course end date. Students will receive an email notification when grades are ready to view. They may then order an official transcript.

Students can download an unofficial transcript or certificate of course completion as soon as the final grades are posted.

Transcript Request

Students may request an official transcript when the certificate of completion is available. These requests are processed within two business days.

Student Complaint and Grievance Policy

1. Any student who has a complaint or grievance with an instructor, an individual assignment grade, or a final course grade should first address those concerns directly with the course instructor.
